British Cabinet Meets To Consider Strikes

Shipping Industry Badly Hurt

LONDON (AP)—The Churchill government Thursday night stepped into the two-week-old London dock strike which has cut deeply into Britain's vital shipping industry.

Prime Minister Churchill summoned a special cabinet meeting, and later Sir Walter Monckton, minister of labor, asked waterfront employers and union representatives to meet with him separately Friday.

Also discussed at the cabinet session was the strike which has brought to a halt thousands of London's red double-decker buses. Walkouts spread throughout the day. Only one ship in the miles of London wharves was being worked. Industrial experts estimated between a quarter and a third of Britain's overseas trade was at a standstill. More than a third of the city's 7,100 buses stood idle in their garages, upsetting surface transport.

Union pleas to dock strikers to return to work to permit negotiation of their grievances were countered by strike committee predictions the stoppage "will become national."

One drastic step which the government could take would be to declare a state of emergency and call troops to the docks to unload perishable cargoes.

This was the picture in London's surface transport:

More than 12,350 bus drivers and conductors were out. Service was at a standstill on 92 of London's 200 bus routes. Forty-two other routes were partly affected and 32 were working restricted schedules.

Tens of thousands of Londoners were delayed in the nightly rush to get home after the day's work. Queues grew longer and longer as packed buses rumbled past one stop after another. Huge jams formed at the entrances to the subway system and the trains were crowded with thousands of extra passengers who normally depend on buses. Hundreds were given lifts by passing automobiles. Others hiked it to the railway stations to catch commuter trains to the suburbs.

The bus strike stems from a demand for higher pay and better working conditions. The drivers and conductors recently began a ban on overtime in support of their demand for weekly minimum wage of 10 pounds ($28). Drivers now get a basic 7 pounds 18 shillings 6 pence ($22.19) and conductors 7 pounds 14 shillings 6 pence ($21.83).

Rules Negroes Have Right To Go To Milford School

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Delaware Thursday paved the legal way for the re-admission of ten Negro students to the formerly all-white Milford, Del., High School. Vice Chancellor William Marvel ruled that the ten Negroes "have a clear legal right" to attend the Milford school, pending a final decision by the Delaware Court of Chancery in a case filed by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of the ten children and their parents.

There was no immediate reaction to the vice chancellor's ruling by the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, of the organization's president, Bryant Bowles.

Louis L. Redding, attorney for the NAACP, said in Washington it would probably be the middle of next week before the children return to the school.

He explained that the defendants in the case — the Milford School Board, the school superintendent and the high school principal — have until Tuesday noon to file arguments or exception to the ruling with the chancery.

If none are filed the chancery then would issue an order, effective immediately, which would clear the way for the school to readmit the pupils.

BOUNCING BOY
CHICAGO (AP)—The last time 3-year-old Michael J. Serra bounced up from the bed springs Thursday, the bed wasn't below him to break his fall.

Instead he angled sideways, bounced right through the glass of his closed window and plunged to the soft, rain-soaked ground two floors below.

His only injury was a cut over the eye.

High Court To Decide If State Or U.S. To Try Alleged Subversives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whether States may prosecute alleged subversives under their own sedition laws or must leave the field exclusively to the federal government will be decided by the Supreme Court.

The court, in its first business session of the new term, agreed Thursday to review a Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision throwing out the conviction of Steve Nelson, western Pennsylvania Communist party leader, on charges of violating the state's sedition act.

The Pennsylvania court ruled that sedition against the United States is a federal offense and can be prosecuted only in federal courts.

Twenty-seven states joined Pennsylvania in asking the U. S. Supreme Court to review and overturn the State Supreme Court decision.

Nelson was tried under the Pennsylvania Sedition Act in Pittsburgh in 1952 and drew a 20-year sentence. Subsequently he was tried under the federal Smith Act and received a five-year sentence. The Smith Act makes it a crime to conspire to teach the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

In asking for a Supreme Court review, Atty. Gen. Frank F. Truett of Pennsylvania, said: "If prosecution is restricted to federal courts, a Communist by dilatory and frustrating tactics may protract and delay trials in federal courts to such an extent that only a comparatively small proportion of these subversive offenders may be tried and sentenced."

The Court also refused to interfere with an order of the Court of Appeals here reinstating an indictment against Ray Brennan, Chicago Sun-Times reporter. The charge that Brennan posed as an employee of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee to get executive session testimony of Chicago police Capt. Dan Gilbert had been dismissed in District Court. The Court of Appeals reversed the lower court and Brennan appealed to the Supreme Court. The legal question at issue is whether statements Brennan made voluntarily to a committee lawyer may be used by the government in prosecuting him.

Russ Surprise West With Okay Of Trieste Plan
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Russians surprised the West again Wednesday night by giving an approving nod to the Western-sponsored Trieste settlement. The Soviets had been expected to blast the agreement.

Soviet recognition of the Oct. 5 London Accord dividing the Trieste territory between Italy and Yugoslavia was conveyed in a letter from Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to the 11-member Security Council.

The Russian acquiescence apparently was part of the Kremlin drive to better relations with Yugoslavia's independent Communist regime.

Report Situation In Indochina Has Deteriorated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A report by a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Thursday said the situation in Indochina has seriously deteriorated and in South Viet Nam there is danger it "could give way to complete internal chaos."

The report, made by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) to the full committee, urged immediate suspension of U. S. aid "preliminary to a complete reappraisal of our present policies" if the tottering South Viet Nam government should fall.

Mansfield, who returned last week from a two-month study mission to Indochina, also recommended that the Senate study losses of U. S. military equipment and other aid in Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia. He said expenditures there since 1950 have exceeded $2,600,000,000.

He said according to best available estimates "some 25 per cent of American economic aid went into areas which are now held by the Communists, an unwitting gift."

Under the Geneva cease fire agreement of last summer, the state of Viet Nam was divided into two zones, with Communists controlling the North zone and non-Communists controlling the South, pending a general election in 1956. A commission composed of representatives of Canada, Poland and India is to supervise the election. Mansfield cited one instance in which he said U. S. assistance made possible major improvements to the Hanoi airport "now passed intact to the Communists."

MORE SHOWERS FALL IN GREAT LAKES AREA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Widespread showers extended through the Great Lakes region Thursday and scattered thunderstorms and showers moved southward into the Ohio Valley.

Most of the eastern third of the nation had unseasonably warm weather with 80-degree readings extending from southern Texas northeastward across the eastern Great Lakes to include much of New York State.

Cloudiness and showers with temperatures in the 70s prevailed in the South Atlantic coastal region in conjunction with Hurricane Hazel. Readings also held generally in the 70s in New England.

In contrast, a large mass of cool dry air spread across the western two-thirds of the country centered over Wyoming and southern Idaho. Mostly sunny skies accompanied the coolness which held in the 40s and 50s most of the day from the northern lakes and upper Mississippi westward across the northern Rockies.

Heavier six-hour measurements in the rainy region amounted to 49 inch in Madison, Wis., and 67 in Grand Rapids and 61 in Saginaw, Mich.

Fires At Squirrel; Bags Airplane
ATLANTA (AP)—An 18-year-old youth fired a blast of buckshot at a squirrel and bagged an airplane.

Police Sgt. Fred Kelly said the youth, Marvin Alvin Pickens, fired a 12-gauge shotgun Wednesday at a squirrel near Gunn Field.

Horace L. McClure was coming in for a landing in a small plane at the time and reported he "felt a shock." He brought the two-seater down safely and then found nine holes in the wings and fuselage.

McClure swore out a warrant charging assault with intent to murder. Pickens was arrested and told police he simply didn't see the plane when he fired at the squirrel.

Tanker, Ship Collide In Lake Michigan

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The 268-foot Dutch cargo ship, Prins Willem V, sank in Lake Michigan Thursday night after colliding with a tug, but all aboard were believed rescued.

The Willem, an Orange Line ship with 29 men aboard, went down in 30 feet of water one hour and 13 minutes after colliding with a Sinclair Oil Co. tug, which was towing a barge.

The 2,000-ton ship, carrying a general cargo, was outbound from Milwaukee to Canada and Europe. The collision occurred in heavy seas, but there was no fog in the area.

The coast guard, which has a station on the lakefront here, sent rescue ships to the scene and reported that all aboard the Willem were taken off or had taken to life boats before it sank. The tug reached harbor under its own power.

Milwaukee Police Det. Wallace Armstrong said the Coast Guard was towing some of the lifeboats into shore in heavy seas.

Ambulances were waiting at the Milwaukee yacht slip where the first of the crewmen from the Prins Willem began arriving.

Douglas And Meek Speak From Same Platform Thursday

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul H. Douglas and Joseph T. Meek, the two men who are competing for the same seat in the U. S. Senate, spoke from the same platform Thursday.

Their forum was a luncheon session at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. Douglas, Democrat who now holds the Senate seat, and Meek, Republican who is trying to oust him, shook hands while photographers recorded their brief, smiling get-together. Then, facing the cameramen, they held each other's hand aloft—Douglas' left and Meek's right—in a familiar prize ring gesture.

There was no debate. Each took a 20-minute turn at speaking. Both made clear they were for peace and prosperity. But otherwise their talks differed.

Douglas, who spoke first, talked mostly about business in relation to government and other spheres of our national life.

"Business needs a prosperous population and the people need sound and efficient business," he said.

"Business, workers, farmers and consumers all depend on each other. Let us try to keep all of their problems in perspective and work toward our common goal of international peace and freedom abroad and prosperity at home for all segments of our national economy."

Meek, whose remarks ranged over a wider field, asserted: "The greatest issue is peace."

He said peace can best be maintained by the Republicans and expressed the hope that President Eisenhower will be given "a real Republican majority" in the Nov. 2 congressional elections.

IN NAME ONLY

Veterans Day Is New Name For Armistice Day, Nov. 11

WASHINGTON (AP)—A national committee met Thursday to heat up plans for observing the first major change in a national holiday in 16 years.

For on Nov. 11 this nation will drop Armistice Day, which it has been celebrating since 1938, and begin the observance of Veterans Day.

The committee, headed by Veterans' Administrator Harvey H. Higley, has the job of stirring up interest in the renamed holiday. Strictly speaking, this country has no national legal holidays. Congress can be-it-resolved all it wants to, but it's still up to the states to decide which holidays they will authorize.

So we have southern citizens giving the Rebel yell on Robert E. Lee's birthday (Jan. 19) and Jefferson Davis' birthday (June 3). Many northern states have Lincoln's birthday (Feb. 12) as a legal holiday.

Massachusetts has its Patriots' Day (April 19) Nevada its admission day (Oct. 31). Tennessee its Gen. Bedford Forrest's birthday (July 13). Vermont its Bennington Battle Day (Aug. 16). And North Carolina its anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence Day (May 20).

A few holidays, such as July 4 and Dec. 25, are universally observed. Others, like Armistice Day, are recognized by most of the states.

Well, and why change it? Officials of the veterans' organizations have been saying that Armistice Day—honoring those who fought, and especially those who died, in World War I—should be enlarged to include all veterans, living and dead.

But the idea didn't seem to be getting anywhere until Nov. 11, 1953. On that day Emporia, Kan., held its own Veterans Day. Among those attending was Rep. Ed Rees, Emporia's congressman.

Rees was so impressed that as soon as Congress reconvened he introduced a bill to change Armistice to Veterans Day.

By constant prodding he got, by congressional standards, lightning action. It passed the House and Senate and was signed into law by President Eisenhower on June

President Showered With Gifts On Birthday

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower was showered with congratulations and gifts ranging from trout rods and barbecue equipment to a Black Angus calf on his 64th birthday Thursday.

"Thank you, Thank you," the smiling President said as he stepped from his car at the Denver White House to the "Happy birthday" greetings of a group of aides.

From all over the nation hundreds of congratulatory messages arrived. And the gifts were piled high at the chief executive's Lowry Air Base office and at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud.

One of the gifts—the Black Angus calf—was on the way to the President's 189-acre farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

The White House declined to name the donors of most of the gifts, including the calf. Nor would it give out any information on what Mrs. Eisenhower gave her husband.

On the President's desk at Lowry were 64 red roses which came from employees of the White House in Washington. From members of his personal staff there was an undisclosed gift.

The others included an old Scotch bellows for the fireplace at his farm, asbestos barbecue mitts, a barbecue fork, trout rods, reels and a basket creel, several paintings, and two boxwood plants for the farm.

There also were plenty of birthday cakes. One—a replica of the White House with a golf putting green on the roof—was on the table at a luncheon given for the President at Cherry Hills Country Club by a group of about 35 Colorado golfing pals.

The luncheon also was a farewell party for Eisenhower, who will end an eight-week work and play vacation Friday and head back to Washington. On the way he will stop in Indianapolis for a speech there Friday night on an important congressional campaign issue—the administration's controversial farm program.

The President worked on the address for a while Thursday before going to Cherry Hills for lunch and a round of golf.

Predict Winds At 130 Miles

HATTERAS, N. C. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, gaining speed and expected to move still faster, aimed its death-dealing fury at the North Carolina coast Thursday night.

The season's most vicious tropical storm, with winds of 130-miles an hour and moving north-northwest at 25 to 30 m.p.h., was expected to strike land near Wilmington, N. C., about 5 a.m. The Miami Weather Bureau warned that winds would increase along the coast north of the storm throughout the night.

The Weather Bureau said Hazel was centered about 275 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla., and about 350 miles south-east of Wilmington at 8 p.m.

A Navy reconnaissance plane planned to keep tabs on the hurricane by radar throughout the night.

North Carolina coastal dwellers worked feverishly to prepare for the savage storm which caused uncounted death and destruction as it lumbered through the Caribbean.

Storm-wary New Englanders, already battered by two death-dealing hurricanes this year, hurried preparations against Hazel just in case the storm maintained its course and hit there.

All along the coast from Charleston, S. C., to Block Island storm warnings were hoisted and the Weather Bureau cautioned against dangerous winds and high tides.

The entire North Carolina coastline was brought under hurricane alert Thursday night as the storm maintained its north-northwest course. Earlier only the Cape area expected the full brunt of the storm.

The Weather Bureau said the center of the storm was about 260 miles east of Melbourne, Fla., at 5 p.m. Its forward movement was about 25 miles an hour, but it was picking up speed.

Highest winds were estimated at 130 miles an hour over a small area near the center, and gales to extend 200 miles to the north and east and about 100 miles to the south and west.

"Winds will gradually increase and squalls become more frequent along the coast as the hurricane approaches," the bureau said.

"This is a severe hurricane and all precautions should be taken immediately in the area of warning display for the protection of life and property against dangerous winds and abnormally high tides."

Planes from the Coast Guard Air Station at Elizabeth City patrolled North Carolina's outer banks and inland sounds during the day, dropping warnings.

Residents in threatened areas were advised to "get away and stay away" from low-lying beaches or other locations that might be swept by high tides or storm waves.

All Red Cross chapters along the North Carolina coast were alerted to offer emergency aid to possible hurricane victims.

Atlantic Beach, N. C., already has lost most of its summer residents, and the rest—it has a winter population of 49—prepared to sit it out.

Routine preparations were made at the sprawling Camp Lejeune Marine Base and at the Cherry Point Marine Air Station. Under hurricane alerts, Cherry Point sends its big planes to inland airfields, while securing other aircraft in weather-tight hangars.

New Englanders, twice hit by hurricanes this year, were put on notice by the Boston Weather Bureau that Hazel's position and course "make it critical for New England."

Hazel was closely following the paths of hurricanes Carol, which blasted a path up Narragansett Bay in August, and Edna, which hammered hard at Massachusetts and Maine in September.

Diplomatic sources said Martin was consulting his government and that delegates of the United States, Britain and France also were studying the Russian suggestions. These five countries would make the five-power group to be set up under terms of the Western resolution.

The Russian conditions may be accepted by the West in an attempt to get the disarmament talks back into a five-power huddle. The five countries made up a sub-committee of the disarmament commission which wrangled to a deadlock in London last spring.

SIX DEAD IN PUERTO RICO FLOOD

Wilson Hopes His Campaigning Is Wound Up
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson returned Thursday night from his turbulent speech making trip saying that he hoped his campaigning was "wound up."

He told reporters, who met him at the airport, that he knew of no plans for additional political speeches. Obviously referring to the controversy that grew out of his press conference remarks about dogs and the unemployed, he said with a grin "I'm not in the humor" to make any more political speeches.

He was asked if he regarded the bird dog incident as closed. He said: "I would think so."

Use Super-Eye To Test Purity Of Chicago's Water
CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's water sleuths Thursday were given the newest and most powerful electron microscope yet produced to test the purity of the city's water supplies.

The super-eye will enable them to make in hours bacterial tests that would require days under earlier methods of detection.

The $20,000 electron microscope can take photographs magnified 20,000 times and these then can be enlarged to 200,000 times the original.

By theoretical comparison, a penny would be enlarged to a disc with a diameter of two miles.

The new instrument, produced by Radio Corporation of America, has been on display at the annual convention of the Electron Microscope Society of America in suburban Highland Park.

Chicago water engineers have been using a smaller electron microscope since 1947 to test water supplies.

W. W. DeBerard, chief water engineer for Chicago, said no other city in the world is known to possess an electron microscope for maintaining water purity.

Party Not Hurt By Furor Over Wilson: Stratton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton said today the Republican party was not damaged by the furor over a statement on unemployment by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Stratton said he did not think the event would have any effect on the Nov. 2 election but might have hurt if it had "dragged on."

Stratton told newsmen that the dinner meeting and Wilson's speech "put the Republican party on record where it belonged" in regard to labor policies on both the national and state levels.

Stratton said he was confident the party would win the election.

"YOU'VE GOT TO QUIT KICKIN' MY DOG AROUND"

Charles E. Wilson, a stormy center of controversy even before the confirmation of his appointment by President Eisenhower as Secretary of Defense, has again become the focal point of political attack. Having been president of General Motors, he makes an almost natural target for labor leaders like Walter Reuther of the CIO. Not being experienced in the political arena he is prone to make off-the-cuff remarks, sometimes pretty bluntly, and these his opponents are quick to pounce upon.

The Secretary's recent remark in an informal conference in Detroit expressing a preference for bird dogs who get out and hunt over kennel-fed dogs who just sit on their haunches and howl set off howls aplenty from Democratic political leaders and even from some Republicans fearful of an anti-labor reaction.

Governor Stratton, though he later changed his mind, at first threatened to refuse to attend a G.O.P. dinner in Chicago, where he was scheduled to introduce Wilson.

Actually the whole matter appears to us a tempest brewed up for strictly political purposes by those who are seeking to discredit the Eisenhower administration and to secure the election of a Democratic congress.

The Secretary's remarks, inept though they may have been, do not disclose any feeling of prejudice to the laboring man. Most people would agree with him, we believe, in expressing a preference for a dog with initiative as far as dogs are concerned. And we do not think that many voters will fall for the claim that the Secretary was expressing a contemptuous view of labor when he used the dog illustration.

In other words, when the howling subsides we doubt if many votes are changed.

WHO'S STUDYING WHOM?

The U. S. Army, it seems, has found itself much overstocked on an item it calls a "staff study."

To quote a recent news dispatch, the Army "makes so many staff studies it cannot keep track of them all. Sometimes two or more staffs are making the same study at the same time. When the studies are completed, they are filed. Eventually, another staff starts another study of the same situation or problem."

The surplus was brought to light in—yup, you guessed it—a staff study!

This would be very hilarious, except for one little point: It is costing the folks who pay taxes some $5,000,000 a year.

This is how much could be saved, it is said, by installing a new central filing system. Studies already made would be filed very neatly together to avoid any duplication.

We trust that the Army will do so. And the people they pick to do it, we hope, will NOT be another staff study group.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON #—Although he acknowledged this week he has not learned anything about the "arts and science" of politics after 20 months in Washington, Charles E. Wilson has now put himself in politics up to his neck.

A political tumble earlier this week didn't put him long on the defensive. Wednesday night he frankly conceded he had been "inept" but followed this with a blazing attack on the Democrats who, in the middle of an election campaign, are hardly likely to ignore his remarks.

Wilson, 63-year-old millionaire and former president of General Motors, never ran for public office. He got his present job—secretary of defense—through appointment by Eisenhower.

Merely by accepting such a job Wilson involved himself in politics to a certain extent.

It would seem then that Wilson could make his own decision—whether merely to reply to the criticism or jump actively into politics by lashing back at the Democrats.

He said his reference to dogs and people at the same time was crude—unless the administration asked him to jump in.

How Wilson arrived at his decision is not publicly known. But he jumped, and with a memorable splash. This was Monday night at Detroit, where Michigan's Republican senator, Homer Ferguson, is battling for reelection.

Ferguson and Wilson are old friends. Wilson, in a public speech, plugged for Ferguson and all the Michigan Republicans running for Congress.

Detroit, of all cities in the United States, would seem to be the one where Wilson's words might be expected to have the most influence. There he had worked for years in the headquarters of General Motors. The workers knew him well. If not personally, at least through their union.

Since there is unemployment among Detroit auto workers, Wilson was questioned about it at a news conference there. Offhand, he said:

He had sympathy for people caught in a sudden change but always liked hard dogs, which get out and hunt for their food "better than kennel-fed dogs which 'sit on their fat and yell'."

Democrats and some Republicans hopped him at once for talking about dogs and people in the same breath. He explained he had meant no harm. Eisenhower and some other Republicans said they were sure he hadn't.

As the storm got worse, Wilson began to look like a liability for the Republicans. Another man might have offered an explanation and retired from politics. Not Wilson. He jumped back in Wednesday night in Chicago.

Boyle's Column

NEW YORK #—Louis Tewanima, a wrinkled Hope tribesman who in his youth was one of America's greatest distance runners, has decided he doesn't want to live in New York.

"Too many no-Indians here," explained the octogenarian racer, after two days of sightseeing amid Manhattan's tall stone tepees.

Tewanima prefers the mighty mesas of Arizona, where his people have dwelt as peacefully as the outside world would let them for more than 1,000 years.

This was his first visit here in 42 years, since he returned to the reservation after placing second in the 10,000 meter race in the 1912 Olympics at Stockholm at about the age of 40. It was one of only three races in his career he failed to win.

Recently he was named a member of the all-time U.S. Olympic track and field team in a poll conducted by the Helms Athletic Foundation. He came here to attend a fund-raising dinner for the 1956 Olympic team, and the old fellow was quite touched to be remembered after all these years.

Running is natural to him, as it is to all Hope Indians. Through an interpreter—he speaks halting English—82-year-old Tewanima explained:

"It is part of our religion. The body is our temple, and we must keep it well."

As a boy Louis, who is now a high-ranking Hopi priest, trained by running to earth jackrabbits, wild horses and antelope. He ran them down on foot.

"Catch jackrabbit in few minutes," he said gravely. "Antelope take half a day. Not so long to catch horse. Horse get tired."

To prove he had reached manhood and was entitled to become head of a family, Tewanima ran 150 miles in a day at the shuffling lope peculiar to his tribe.

"If no run fast," he said, "can run for long time."

Tewanima can still travel 10 to 20 miles a day easily. He takes care of his own herd of 100 sheep and tills his own garden. Here is his recipe for living long and staying healthy:

"Eat good. Keep sheep. Keep garden."

Here is his reaction to some of the tourist meccas of the world's greatest city:

Broadway: "Not enough grass for sheep. Just for pigeons."

Times Square at night: "Never so dark?"

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD #—I'm always critical of my family. Whatever they do, I want them to be only the best.

That was Lillian Gish's explanation of why she is sometimes considered a critic of the film industry. She considers it a part of her family, and that isn't too far-fetched. She certainly grew up with it, and it with her.

Miss Gish, whose tender, innocent face is remembered by anyone who lived through the silent film era, is back in Hollywood after a considerable absence. She is playing with Shelley Winters and Robert Mitchum in "Night of the Hunter," which is being directed by Charles Laughton. She marks her 55th birthday today, but her skin is smooth and she still has the loveliness that mature film fans recall.

She began on the stage at 5 and played in her first movie at 12. She became a star with "Birth of a Nation" and was associated with many of the great D. W. Griffith films that raised movies from infamy to adulthood.

She left Hollywood in 1936, returning only for an occasional film. The date is significant. That was when the talkies had taken over.

"No, I have never approved of talkies," she confessed. "It seemed to me that the movies were well on their way to developing an entirely new art form. It was not just pantomime, but something wonderfully expressive."

All that was shattered when the movies started to talk. They went right back to the stage technique. There was nothing original about them any more."

Miss Gish sighed that she seldom goes to the movies any longer. She said she liked "Bill" and Cinerama, but couldn't think of any others. I asked if she saw "From Here to Eternity."

"No, I don't go to war movies," she said. "People who don't like war, don't like war movies, and that includes most women, doesn't it? I think producers make a mistake in paying little attention to the women in the audiences. After all, they make up 70 per cent of the moviegoers."

Neither will get you anywhere. Next time your husband looks for something to complain about, take him by the hand and lead him from room to room.

SHOW HIM WHAT YOU'VE DONE

Keep your temper and maintain a light touch as you say something like: "Just this once, I want to take you on a personally conducted tour of this house, to show you what I HAVE done today."

Skip nothing, from the beds that have been made, the washing and ironing done, the closets straightened, the results of the errands run right on down to the dinner cooking in the oven.

If you're an average housewife, by the time you have finished checking off everything you have done during your day, your husband will be worn out just hearing about the number and variety of jobs you have accomplished.

And there is a good chance that in the future he will hesitate before finding fault.

Any husband who has no idea of what his wife does during the day needs to have it pointed out to him.

And nobody can do that—but his wife.

HOME-GROWN CANS

HONOLULU #—Henry A. White, president of Hawaiian Pineapple Co., said the company is considering construction of its own plant to manufacture tin cans for its Honolulu factory.

Proposals submitted to date by the American Can Co. have fallen short of providing the savings which our studies indicate to be possible from the self-manufacture of cans," White reported to stockholders.

In There Swinging—Chair Hunt—Sporty Gift—Recalls Hoover—Wrong Target—Dry-Ice Drop

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Mrs. George Humphrey, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, is an avid fan of the Cleveland Indians and she attended the last two World Series games in Cleveland where the Indians lived. Several days after the Cleveland tragedy Mrs. Humphrey was scheduled to christen a giant new lake steamer, so George sent her a wire saying:

"Hope your swing with the bottle of champagne is better than the swing of the Indian ballers."

THE RECENT operation on Ike's first Secretary of Labor, Martin Durkin, sent the White House into a small flap. When it was announced that Durkin was to undergo surgery, someone in the Executive Mansion raised the question as to whether Durkin had ever picked up the chair he had used as a member of the cabinet after he resigned, as is the custom.

With most of the White House staff at Denver nobody appeared to know. Someone called his office—he is president of the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe-fitting Industry of the United States and Canada—and got the report that there was no cabinet chair there.

There ensued a long and frantic search at the White House and still no chair was to be found. Finally the White House called the Durkin home, and to the relief of everyone discovered that he had taken it home and was using it at his dining room table.

WHEN HENRY KAISER was in Argentina recently, negotiating with President Peron on the big automobile plant, Kaiser is going to put in there, Mrs. Kaiser admired the sporty Mercedes-Benz Peron was driving. She is a sports car fan.

Next day the car was delivered to her hotel as a gift from the Argentine president.

She is shipping it back to the U.S. to use in California.

THERE WAS A high old line at the Department of Commerce when veteran employees there threw a party for former President Hoover, who had the Commerce building built during his administration.

When he left the White House the Democrats dubbed the building "Hoover's Folly," and partly because of that, Hoover admitted, he had only been in the structure three times since 1928. "For 20 years the place never seemed very friendly," he recalled.

When Hoover was told that 871 employees in the Commerce auditorium had been there when he was Secretary of Commerce he said: "Those of you who weathered the storm obviously have unusual merits."

When I first went to work there," Hoover related, "I was told that it was the easiest job in government, that all I had to do was put the fish to bed and turn on the lights along the coast."

He was referring to the aquarium, the department has maintained and the lighthouse service which used to be in Commerce.

Manners Make Friends

It confuses some hostesses to have guests pitch in and help in the kitchen. So if a hostess politely refuses your offer to help, don't insist. The hostess who hopes you'll offer to help will give you a job without quibbling.

Let the hostess run her own house.

Here's How to Answer Mates Who Think Wives Don't Work

"If my husband would just come home some evening and notice all the things I HAVE done during the day, instead of looking for something I haven't done to complain about, I would feel as though I'd won a medal."

The wife who wrote that in her letter goes on to ask, "What can you do about a husband who always overlooks the things he could praise and always looks for the things he can criticize? I've grown to dread my husband's coming home at night for I know there is sure to be something he can find fault with."

Quit dreading his homecomings, and quit feeling sorry for yourself. Neither will get you anywhere. Next time your husband looks for something to complain about, take him by the hand and lead him from room to room.

American Menu

Eggs Are Cheap, Good for Breakfast, Lunch or Supper

FOR A PERFECT SUPPER DISH serve creamy scrambled eggs with sliced sausage.

By GAYNOR MADDIX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Egg producers are in a critical situation. About 13 per cent more chicks were hatched last year and they are now laying eggs in record volume. The result is more eggs on hand than producers can dispose of at a fair profit unless budget-minded consumers use more of them in well-balanced family menus.

If egg producers are discouraged by today's rock-bottom prices, they may sharply cut down production for next year. This could mean sky-high prices next year for this important source of top-quality protein. So nobody stands to profit unless egg consumption increases.

Scrambled eggs are a versatile dish, good for breakfast, lunch and supper. With egg prices so low, they belong in the family menu more frequently.

Scrambled Eggs (2 servings)
Four eggs, 4 tablespoons milk or cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup bread, butter or margarine, vegetable salad, cranberry and raisin pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Mix eggs, milk, salt and pepper with fork or spoon—mixing thoroughly if a uniform yellow is preferred or mixing slightly if streaks of white and yellow are preferred. Heat fat in skillet (approx. 8-inch) just hot enough to sizzle drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Reduce heat promptly.

Cook slowly, lifting from the bottom and sides as the mixture thickens. As the cooked mixture is lifted, the thin uncooked part should flow to the bottom. Avoid constant stirring. Cook until eggs are thickened throughout but still moist, 5 to 8 minutes.

Serve them with link or sliced sausage, with fried tomato rings, toast or muffins, with crisp bacon or fried ham. Add grated cheese, minced ham, chopped green peppers or chicken livers to them for variety and extra flavor.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Grapefruit, scrambled eggs with chicken livers or cheese on hot buttered toast, hash-browned potatoes, buttered snap beans, French or crusty bread, butter or margarine, vegetable salad, cranberry and raisin pie, coffee, tea, milk.

DR. JORDAN SAYS

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A mother writes that her teenage son who is a senior in high school has trouble with pimples on his face, arms, chest and back which has so embarrassed him that he does not want to go out. This is typical of thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands, and is fully as important because of its psychological and emotional effect on the sensitive adolescent as because of the physical ailment.

Furthermore acne or adolescent pimples generally comes at a time when youngsters are at the peak of their sensitivity concerning personal appearance. The attitude of friends of the same age, and particularly those of the opposite sex, is terribly important and the shrinking from social contacts which severe acne so often brings greatly adds to the difficulty of normal development and social ease.

ONLY A SMALL proportion of those afflicted with acne develop permanent scarring but the fear is always present. Not only is there the usually unnecessary fear of permanent scarring of the face, but the pimples themselves produce an excessive shyness and self-consciousness. Some develop a permanent inferiority complex as a result of the acne.

Acne prefers the face, neck, upper part of the chest and shoulders. The pimple usually starts as a red, slightly tender bump which is slightly tender to touch. It often develops into a "white head" which actually consists of a mixture of pus, keratin skin oil, and destroyed tissue cells.

IN THE MILDER cases the pimples are spaced rather widely apart and are near the surface. In more severe cases they are closer together, break out more frequently and burrow deeper into the skin. When a white head forms the top of the pustule finally breaks open, the pus escapes, a crust forms and healing takes place. If the pustule has been large and deep a permanent scar may be left, though this is fortunately the exception.

Infection alone almost certainly does not explain the development of acne. Diet almost certainly plays a part. Many, if not most, adolescents have a craving for sweets and sweets almost always make acne worse.

A SPECIAL effort should be made to overcome the self-consciousness caused by pimples. Every boy and girl should force himself or herself to take part in social functions and ignore any remarks which might be made.

In addition to seeking proper medical advice AND FOLLOWING IT, the condition should be ignored so far as going to or staying away from social events is concerned. If permanent scarring does occur it may be possible with new methods such as the steel brush or sandpapering to greatly improve the appearance of the skin.

Acne is a common skin condition and is not a disease. It is a condition of the skin which is caused by a combination of factors, including heredity, hormones, and diet. It is not contagious and it is not a sign of poor hygiene. It is a condition that affects many people, and it is important to seek proper medical advice and follow it.

Gray Lady Course Offered Free By Local Red Cross

Women interested in receiving Gray Lady training, offered free of charge of the Morgan County Red Cross chapter may take the first lesson in a course to start at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19, in the Red Cross chapter office. The office is located upstairs over Hopper's Shoe Store, the entrance of which faces Morgan street. The instructions will last from 1 to 4 p.m. There is just one other class included in the course and will be similar to that to be held Tuesday. The two lessons constitute the entire course and should be completed by Nov. 1st.

Completion will enable those taking advantage of the course the opportunity of giving trained volunteer service in any accredited hospital in the United States. Anyone wishing additional information may phone the Red Cross office, 1844.

For the benefit of women interested in volunteer service in hospitals a Gray Lady completes a basic course learning elementary steps in working with hospital personnel and other auxiliary duties associated with hospitals. She is privileged to wear the attractive pearl gray coat dress, buttoned down the front and shirt-waist styled. The garment bears the red insignia familiar to many who visit or are patients at local hospitals.

Many of the women preparing to take the Gray Lady course this term are interested in giving volunteer service under the new program recently started at the Jacksonville State hospital. Gray Lady service is not confined to any one hospital but is volunteer at any hospital having contact with the American Red Cross.

NEW SENATE RACE SHAPES UP—According to some observers the GOP has a good chance to keep control of the Senate in November. The GOP has 33 holdovers and is reasonably assured of an additional 10 more in the coming election for a total of 43, while the Democrats have 26 holdovers and are counting on an additional 15 for a total of 41. If this is true, the GOP need only win five "key states" while the Democrats would need to win eight.

Tight-Lipped On Charge He Killed Unidentified Man

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A man first believed murdered then charged with the death of an unidentified victim faced a habeas corpus hearing today.

David Fred Hagler Jr., a Fort Worth asphalt firm executive, turned up alive Wednesday but remained tight-lipped as Texas and Oklahoma officers tried to solve the mystery to Hagler's former wife near Davis, Okla., last Sunday.

Hagler, 35, was charged Wednesday in Sulphur, Okla. Authorities first believed the charred body was Hagler's, but a dental check proved otherwise. Then he telephoned Fort Worth police from Waco, Tex., Wednesday morning and turned up before noon at Fort Worth police headquarters, accompanied by two attorneys. Asst. Dist. Atty. Gerald Murad said Hagler wouldn't, or couldn't shed any light on the case. Hagler told reporters: "I was not in the car. I am not guilty." Hagler borrowed the car for a trip to Daugherty, Okla., last week.

"He says he met two men at a bar Saturday morning," Murad said. "The men, he says, took his auto. From there on he just doesn't seem to remember."

Police Chief Cato Hightower, who formerly lived across the street from Hagler, quoted the businessman as saying he had been drunk "two or three days."

IT'S BRAINS THAT COUNT

NEW CANAAN, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Baker, campaigning for a seat in the Connecticut state senate, got a $10 check from a woman admirer with instructions to buy a hat that would "dazzle the voters." Mrs. Baker, instead, bought a conservative headpiece. She explained: "Rather than dazzle the voters, I'd prefer to win votes on what's in the head, not on it."

OUTS MAKE CUT—The political party out picked up 80 seats in every off-year election since 1922 except 1934. The Republicans made the largest gain in 1938 when they picked up 80 seats. Above Newschart shows number of seats picked up by the "Outs" in the last eight off-year elections.

LASTING PROMISE

BELLS, Tex. (AP)—George Dugan still drives his Model T—but he hasn't driven in nearly 18 years since he ran a stop sign 18 years ago.

That time he made a deal with a traffic cop.

"Well, sir," he said, "just let me turn around and go back to Bells and I won't bother you any more." Dugan has kept his promise. Recently the Sherman police chief heard about it. He sent word to Dugan that the cop has long since retired and Dugan can drive his Model T in Sherman any time he wants.

Dugan declined. He said he still doesn't want to go back on his word—and, besides, the model T is getting too old to be cutting up in that city traffic.

Gangland Style Ride Ends In Death For One

NEW YORK (AP)—A gangland-style ride in Little Neck, Queens, Wednesday night ended with one man slain, another wounded, a third man held—and with the self-described intended victim alive to tell the story.

The bloody scene, in a field in a sparsely settled part of Little Neck, was discovered by a father who heard gunfire. Fearing his own son and two other children might be in danger, he rammed the "kidnap" car with his own auto to prevent a getaway while his wife called police.

Police said they found Dominick Sorrese dead of a bullet wound in the head; Rosario Marceca, 40, wounded in the chest with a slug from his own revolver; Andrea Bonmarito, 38, the driver, with a gun in his hand; and Anthony Governante, 45, a rope around his neck.

Authorities said Governante, a butcher, told this story:

Governante recently had purchased a farm in Sicily that Marceca had hoped to buy. Governante, Marceca and Sorrese were natives of the same Sicilian village.

Governante said arguments over his acquiring the property had got very heated. But Wednesday night, he said, the three men appeared in a friendly mood when they met him at a subway station in Long Island City and invited him to drive over and see a mutual friend in Little Neck.

Governante said he got in the front seat of the car between Bonmarito and Sorrese. In the back seat was Marceca.

While driving along, Bonmarito suddenly spun the car into the field.

From the rear seat, Marceca crashed a length of iron pipe on Governante's head. As he screamed, Sorrese wrapped a length of rope around his neck and began to tighten it.

Shouting for help, Governante fought desperately. Then, he said, Marceca drew a gun and fired. Governante said he swung at the gun and deflected the muzzle. The gun went off and a bullet crashed into Sorrese's brain.

Again Marceca pointed the weapon at him, Governante said. Before he could fire, the latter said, he bent Marceca's hand around. When the gun went off, the bullet entered Marceca's chest.

Marceca was described as in serious condition in Long Island Jewish Hospital.

Meanwhile Joseph Benenati, 33, who lives nearby, heard the shots. His 8-year-old son and his sister-in-law's two youngsters were playing outside.

Fearing the children were endangered, possibly by kidnapers, Benenati rushed outside, jumped into his car and rammed his car into Bonmarito's.

Benenati said he captured Bonmarito with a flying tackle as he attempted to escape.

Bonmarito was booked on a homicide charge.

Upholds Dismissal Of Suit Against LaSalle Officials

CHICAGO, Ill. — The U. S. Court of Appeals has upheld a Federal District Court's dismissal of a $100,000 damage suit against two LaSalle County officials and the foreman of a LaSalle County grand jury.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Elizabeth Cawley, of 440 1st St., LaSalle. She alleged that the defendants conspired to deprive her of her constitutional rights by having her indicted March 19, 1953, even though they knew she had violated no law.

The indictments were for alleged liquor and gambling violations.

Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg of the appeals court Wednesday upheld the dismissal by Federal Judge Joseph Sam Perry.

Defendants in the suit were LaSalle County State's Atty. Harland Warren, his first assistant, Wendall Thompson, and Harold Wenz.

Judge Refuses Manslaughter Plea Of Rockford Man

MAUSTON, Wis. (P) — A Rockford, Ill. man pleaded guilty to a charge of fourth degree manslaughter Wednesday but Circuit Judge Bruce Beilfuss refused to accept the plea.

James Rhodes, 39, was being held in jail at Mauston, Wis. His bond of $5,000 was continued and no date was set for the Circuit Court trial.

The charge against Rhodes was in connection with the death of Mrs. Eva Minor, 46, a Mauston widow. Mrs. Minor drowned in the Lemonweir River Aug. 2.

Rhodes and his wife had reported to Rockford authorities on Aug. 3 that the woman jumped from their car on a bridge 18 miles southeast of Mauston following an argument.

Judge Beilfuss said he was ordering a jury trial for Rhodes because of conflicting reports over whether or not a struggle on the bridge had preceded the drowning.

Labor Group Sees Private Atomic Power As 'Grab'

PEORIA, Ill. (P) — The Illinois State Federation of Labor calls a move to let private companies develop atomic power a "grab" that means "tremendous profits" to corporations in on the deal but "continued high cost of electricity for everyone else."

Opposition to private development of atomic power was contained in an executive board report approved Wednesday by delegates to the federation's annual convention.

The report also praised the U. S. Supreme Court decision calling for an end to segregation in public schools as a "second Emancipation Proclamation" and attacked proposed right-to-work laws as "union-busting" measures.

TRUSTIES STILL IN JAIL WHEN SHERIFF RETURNS BUT—

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (P) — The two young men were trustees at the Monroe County jail, which meant that Sheriff Fred Davis expected them to be there when he got back from investigating a wreck Wednesday.

They were, but the state sheriff still filed petit larceny charges against them.

The sheriff said the two men, Arnold Fox, 20, and Kenneth Morris Jr., 22, picked a lock on the jail safe, took $10, went out and bought whisky and came back and got drunk before he returned.

Third Robbery One Too Many: Police Find Two On Job

CHICAGO (AP)—Police Wednesday night caught up with two robbers who the officers said were pulling their third robbery of the evening.

One of the holdup men was seized after a bullet-punctuated chase when his automobile smashed into a tree. The other escaped on foot after firing three shots at a pursuing detective. The officer was not hit.

Detectives Eugene Irven and Charles Fitzgerald identified the man seized as Robert Suane, 27. They said Suane admitted robbing two North Side taverns before the officers interrupted the attempted holdup which led to Suane's capture.

Fitzgerald said that in Suane's automobile police found $500 in a cigar box taken in a holdup of the North Pole Inn at 2763 Belmont Ave., as well as $128 taken from the register and several patrons of the place.

The other holdup which Fitzgerald said Suane admitted was that of the Old Time Spot tavern, 3361 Elston Ave., in which $84 was taken.

The two robbers were holding pistols on two attendants at a gasoline service station at Irving Park road and California avenue when Irven and Fitzgerald, seeking the holdup pair, drove into the station.

The robber who fled on foot fired three shots at Fitzgerald. Irven said Suane fled in his car but was captured after a chase of several miles. Six bullets penetrated Suane's car during the chase but he climbed out unhurt after the vehicle hit a tree.

PRIVATE RAILROAD

SOUTH RIVER, N. J. (AP)—Jay Wulfson and his railroad fan buddies didn't wait for Santa Claus to bring them a railroad—they built one themselves.

And it wasn't the living room type, either.

They picked up a 30-year-old 13-ton steam engine for $400 in the junk market, laid out 800 feet of small gauge track, constructed a tender from scrap, and converted a log car into a passenger coach of sorts.

Now the 23-year-old dress manufacturer and his associates have a private museum on a three-acre lot.

The road cost them around $1,000 for rolling stock and parts—plus tons of sweat.

School Explosion Injures Janitor

CHICAGO (AP)—A boiler room explosion today blew out all the windows of the top floor and a door of the Garvey Elementary School and seriously injured a janitor.

The janitor, Irwin Kacant, 27, was taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment of burns on the face and hands.

Kacana said the explosion occurred about 6:30 a.m. when he lighted a cigarette in the basement boiler room of the Northwest Side school. There were no other persons in the building.

Fire Marshal William P. Maloney said a gas leak may have been responsible for the explosion and said the damage "might run as high as $50,000."

'Only Thing I Own' Says Boy Who Held Gun To Regain Dog

MONROE, La. (AP) — Ten-year-old Joe Cooper told Wednesday how he threatened two school officials with a loaded shotgun when they refused to release his unvaccinated dog.

The sixth-grader was committed to the Louisiana Training Institute, a home for delinquent boys, after the incident last week. A wave of public sentiment for the boy prompted another hearing for him on Friday afternoon.

"Me and my boy friend went to school and when we got there my dog Tippi was running around the playground," the boy told a reporter. "Two little girls came over and told me somebody was going to give my dog to the dog catcher."

Joe said he went home for a shotgun, returned and demanded the release of his dog, but the principal, Mrs. Tiny Clark, refused. M. C. Griggs, the truant officer, also refused.

"And then the police came and I put the gun down and gave the gun to the police officer," Joe continued. "Then the police officer started to carry me out the door and Mr. Griggs grabbed my hand."

"He said he'd help, that I might run away."

"They took me to the police station. I guess that's about all."

"I guess I was excited about they were going to give the dog to the dog catcher."

The boy, who said the dog was "the only thing I own," is the son of a widow whose only income was reported to be a $55 monthly state assistance check. A Monroe businessman has paid to have the dog vaccinated and kept for Joe.

Calumet, Yellow Rivers Decline Despite Showers

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Passing thundershowers struck shortly after dawn today in an area where a forecast of rain had worried flood-fighters and 4,000 homeless.

Both nearby Gary and Plymouth, some 70 miles east of Hammond, reported thundershowers. However, both the flooded Little Calumet River in Hammond and the Yellow River at Plymouth continued their slow declines.

More rain was forecast for Plymouth this afternoon. But observers considered it unlikely enough would fall to send the river into new residential areas.

Hammond's Mayor Vernon Anderson called the Red Cross back to active alert status Wednesday night and alerted all police and firemen. However, 18 truckloads of 5th Army personnel returned to nearby Chicago, subject to recall if needed.

Damage estimates in this area alone ranged as high as 10 million dollars.

Residents of Shelby and Schneider were warned to expect a flood crest on the swollen Kankakee River by Saturday morning.

Officials at Plymouth felt the main threat was over. A guard force of 90 men was maintained there to stop looting in the flooded sections.

Asks 'Mercy Of Oblivion' After Confessing Murder

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 28-year-old World War II hero, who had pleaded guilty to murder of his half-sister, asked a panel of judges for mercy Wednesday — "the mercy of oblivion."

Andre L. Paschedag stood before the three-member panel in Quarter Sessions Court and said that "against the advice" of his counsel "I would like to ask for mercy. That is, the mercy of oblivion, by awarding the death penalty. That is the only thing."

But Judge Peter F. Hagan leaned forward and told the defendant:

"You will be confined to the Eastern State Penitentiary for the rest of your life."

The defendant, who received the Bronze Star in World War II, was tried by the three-man court as required by state law since he had pleaded guilty to the April 8 strangulation of Sonia Niehorster, 22, in the one-day trial he offered no defense nor explanation of the crime.

Seeks Support To Aid Coal Industry

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine was reported today to be seeking the support of congressmen from 16 coal producing states, including Illinois, in a program of aid for the ailing coal industry.

"We hope to establish in Congress a common front on a bipartisan basis that will support unambiguously a rehabilitation program for the coal industry," said Robert O'Donnell, an aide to the governor.

Fine disclosed that 32 senators and 163 congressmen from the 16 states involved will be summoned to a conference at Washington next January.

CAPTIVE AUDIENCE

VIENNA (AP) — Communist "thought control" by radios which can't be turned off is being extended to Czechoslovakia.

Several Iron Curtain countries already have "radio by wire" system: instead of a radio, you rent a loudspeaker. A wire into your home connects it to a central point in town.

By this method, you have to listen to what the Red broadcasters dish out. You can't change stations, listen to foreign programs or turn it off.

Although the idea has just been extended to Czechoslovakia, Hungary has been having trouble. Red newspapers complain unknown persons tear down the cables in villages. When the wires are put underground, they are mysteriously cut.

Crimsons Host Notre Dame In Homecoming Battle

Unbeaten Prep Elevens Face Tough Cards

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Efforts to halt the unbeaten progress of such stalwarts as Elgin, Mount Carmel and Pontiac draw major attention in downstate prep football activity Friday and Saturday.

Elgin, facing West Aurora, banks on a hefty scoring punch and a defense that has yielded only one touchdown in four games. In stiff Big Eight loop competition, the West Auroras came through undefeated twice after a loss and a tie in early non-league games.

Mount Carmel smacks into Salem. In pre-season talk, the Aces and Salem were billed as important threats for the North Egyptian title, and their Friday duel may have a big bearing on the outcome.

In a third contest on Friday Pontiac prowls for win No. 5 in a Cornbelt Conference tussle with Normal Community, currently its co-leader in the crown race.

Difficult Friday games confront Centralia, East Aurora, Mendota, Hillsboro and Shelbyville, all defenders of records unmarred by defeats or ties.

Monticello meets Harrisburg, a South Seven rival that has split four divisions. East Aurora, sitting along with Elgin and West Aurora in the top Big Eight spot, bumps up against usually tough Joliet. Mendota takes on once-beaten Rochelle in a North Central encounter.

Hillsboro and Shelbyville, having its best season in years, tangle in a midstate feature that must wreck hopes of one or the other for a perfect campaign.

Saturday in the Suburban League, Evanston, a leader along with Waukegan, meets Oak Park, whose Huskies upset strong New Trier a week ago. Waukegan is favored to down Highland Park.

Current expenditure for elementary and secondary schools averages 247.45 per year, pupils, says the National Education Assn.

Mayo Smith Appointed Manager Of Phillies; Terry Moore Gets Ax

By BILL LOFTUS
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies dipped into the minor leagues—and for the fourth time to the New York Yankee organization—Thursday and tapped lean, greying Mayo Smith to lead the National League ball club in 1955.

The 39-year-old, mild-mannered Smith was introduced to a gasping group of newspapermen, radio and television reporting at a specially summoned news conference. When he walked into the room with General Manager Roy Hamey, Smith was a complete stranger to the 50 waiting there.

Hamey, the last Yankee employee to join the Phillies, said Smith was named to succeed Terry Moore, the former St. Louis Cardinals ball hawk, because the Phillies wanted an "experienced" manager. Smith has managed for six years in minor league ball, ranging from class D to AA.

Hamey said Moore was released after a half-season tenure at the head of the Phillies because he was "inexperienced." His three months as manager of the Phillies followed 11 seasons as a St. Louis Cards star.

Moore said in St. Louis that he asked Hamey, when told by telephone Thursday about the appointment of Smith, if there was any other reason besides "inexperience" for his replacement and Hamey

Roy Mack Still Hopes To Keep A's In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Roy Mack, executive vice president of the Philadelphia Athletics, said Thursday he had not yet sold his stock and still has hopes of keeping the American League franchise in this city.

Mack's surprising statement added a new puff of smoke to haze encompassing the team and its future. It came as almost everyone had settled back in the belief the A's were due to move to Kansas City.

"I have not sold my stock," declared Mack, who had been keeping his silence since the American League meeting in Chicago last Tuesday, a meeting at which the sale of the club to Arnold Johnson, Chicago real estate man, was believed all but sewed up.

"The last thing I said before leaving the meeting in Chicago, was 'I am in a closely-knit family and I want a chance to talk it over with them,' and I'm still struggling."

Roy's son, Connie Mack 3d, added fuel to the belief the A's might still remain in Philadelphia, by saying:

"Even the Supreme Court couldn't force my dad to sell his stock, if he didn't want to. Right now the less said the better."

And another source—who asked that his name not be used—added:

"Things looks better right now than they have in quite a while. There is a definite chance of the A's staying in Philadelphia. But of course, Roy isn't getting his hopes too high. He's had too many disappointments."

The Athletics mixup was proving major league baseball with the granddaddy of them all.

Bgoern Thofelt Wins World Title

BUDAPEST (AP)—Bgoern Thofelt of Sweden won the world championships for the modern pentathlon Thursday, although he failed to finish first in any of the five events.

Werner Veteorli of Switzerland was second and Istvan Szondy of Hungary was third. Thofelt's winning point total was 4634.5.

Ensign William J. Andre of Montclair, N. J., made the best American showing, finishing eighth with 4285.5 points. Lt. Harlan W. Johnson of Champaign, Ill., was ninth with 4232.

Wisconsin-Purdue, Ohio State-Iowa Top Saturday's Grid Card

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The names may be different, but there's a familiar story to be told in college football this week-end—the story of old rivalries and mid-October big games.

The deflation which hit early and hard against many big time teams this fall took the glamor away from what ordinarily would have been Saturday's top attractions. But new big teams and big games came along to replace them.

Instead of Notre Dame-Michigan State, a game that would have had the fans gasping with excitement in most any recent season, it's Wisconsin-Purdue as the big one in the mid-West Saturday. And not far behind, with the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl game possible at stake, is Ohio State-Iowa.

In the East, Penn State and West Virginia, two old rivals who have escaped defeat so far, get top billing over Navy-Pitt and a couple of rather important Ivy League tussles.

Auburn and Georgia Tech, whose meeting was expected to be decisive in the Southeastern Conference race, both have suffered setbacks, so it's that old standby, Alabama-Tennessee, that shares interest with the colorful Army-Duke game in the South.

Oklahoma, ranked as the nation's No. 1 team in The Associated Press weekly poll, plays a Kansas team that hasn't shown anything so far and as a result that's just another game in the midlands.

On the Pacific Coast Southern California and Oregon meet in the nationally televised "game of the week", but since Southern California's Trojans were upended by Texas Christian last week, most fans probably would prefer seeing the UCLA-Stanford tussle.

The Wisconsin-Purdue clash at Madison looks like the big one to fans throughout the nation. Unbeaten Wisconsin is second only to Oklahoma in the national rankings and is right in line for the Rose Bowl bid. Purdue ended Notre Dame's stand as king of the midwest two weeks ago. Then, refusing to yield entirely to the normal reaction, it fought the flashy Duke team to a tie to hold on to fifth place in the national ratings.

In addition there's another duel of individual aces. It's Alan (The Horse) Ameche, Wisconsin's fullback, against Bill Murakowski, another notable line cracker, and his air arm at Purdue, sophomore Lenny Dawson.

Notre Dame, now ranked eighth, and Michigan State are bound to put on a real scrap. Then there's surprising Minnesota, another title candidate, against disappointing Illinois and Michigan against Northwestern.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

The Jacksonville Crimsons' big homecoming weekend got off to a bang yesterday afternoon with the annual homecoming parade through the streets of Jacksonville.

The parade was led, and very nicely, by Jim Welch's high school band. Coaches Bob Kraushaar and Al Rosenberg and the entire varsity squad took part in the chain of events starting and ending at the school.

Besides the players riding in open cars, various other activities and organizations took part in the parade. The cheerleaders, both varsity and junior varsity, rode in convertibles while the organizations of the school sponsored a number of different floats.

The Crimsons coaches sent the boys through signal drills after the other activities ended. Kraushaar and Rosenberg have seen the Notre Dame team in action on two different occasions. They are big and rugged and both mentors wonder what their boys will do on a slow, wet field.

Although Notre Dame hasn't won a game it's hard to understand why they haven't. At the beginning of the year they were considered to be on their way to a winning season. They're the kind of team that might break loose any time and the Jacks certainly can't take them too easy, even though they are winless.

"I am well pleased with the progress of the club," were the words of Rount coach Jim Smarjesse as he sent the Rockets through their final workout before the Bigsville game. His first line players are all in good shape and several of the "second stringers" have come a long way since the season opened.

He is particularly pleased with

Graves, Barnett Spark Bluffs 31-0 Win Over Dosh

BLUFFS (Special)—Coach Harold Hillman's defending champions Bluffs Bluejays had trouble with the Meredosia Indians in the first quarter but came back strong in the last three periods to hand the visiting Indians a 31-0 setback for their fourth straight win of the season.

Harold Graves and Fred Barnett sparked the Bluejays running attack scoring two touchdowns each. Graves galloped 22 and 30 yards in his TDs while Barnett went 13 and 1 yards to score his pair. Raymond Likes made the other Bluffs in-painter on the receiving end of a 40 yard pass play from Graves. Graves added the lone extra point of the contest.

Coach Cooper's Dosh team had the ball most of the first quarter and threatened to score but the Bluffs defense put on a goal line stand and held the visitors.

GRID PLAYER SHOT

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Ken Switzer, a guard on the 1953 University of Oregon football team, was killed in a hunting accident near here Thursday.

Switzer, 22, was hunting with Jack Patera, 21, a guard on this year's team, in heavy fog along the McKenzie River. State Police Sgt. Vern Hill said first reports indicated Patera fired at a deer and that the bullet hit Switzer.

the showing of linemen Khouri, Coop and Casler. These boys improve with each practice and will begin to push the first string forward wall for one of the starting berths. Halfback George Dee was another welcome addition. He not only is a good runner but he's probably Rount's best blocking back. This will take some of the load off Fredericks, Doolin and Flynn.

While his brother Pat is setting unprecedented scoring records for Winchester in the Valley Conference, Don Lashmet is making a name for himself at Western. Don started the Bradley game and did real well according to referee Harry Fitzhugh. The Scott County product has maintained a 7.7 yard rushing average for the Leathernecks.

Jaxs Take On Quincy 11 At 7:30 Tonight; Rockets On The Road

Although colds and injuries have taken a hold on the Jacksonville Crimsons eleven, Coach Bob Kraushaar expects to have most of his regulars in running condition for tonight's homecoming clash with Notre Dame of Quincy.

The sick list of this past week contains the names of such standouts as co-captain Max Roegge, Ron Trier and Skip Dyer. Roegge and Trier have had colds while Dyer has been having trouble with his knees. All three, however, should be ready to start tonight's game. Others with injuries include: Bill Deaton, with a cut lip, Adams with a split toe while Harlan Jording will be out for the remainder of the season.

This will be the fifth game of the season for the Crimsons and the local boys will be seeking their third win in a row. The last two times out the "boys from Kraushaar's game" defeated Beardstown and Carlinville.

Visiting Notre Dame has lost three in a row to such schools as Pilsfield, Macomb and Rock Island. They run from both the "T" and single wing and possess the fine running back of Edie and Broemmel and the fine line play of guard Fisher.

Coach Kraushaar doesn't plan any lineup changes. He will go with Knight and Hudson at the ends, Woodward and Marquard at tackles, Hill and Prather at guards and Roegge at center. Bill Lewis will direct the team from the quarterback slot with Scott, Trier and Dawson at halfbacks and Dyer at full. Game time on the JHS field is 7:30.

Rockets To Bigsville
The other high school team in action tonight is the Rount Rockets who journey to Bigsville for an intersectional battle with the northern school.

This will be the first time since the local eight man conference was organized that one of the local schools has played a team from another conference. Bigsville is currently leading its league with four straight wins.

All the schools are in the Monmouth area. Bigsville has defeated Keltsburg, Kirkwood, Little York and Joy by such scores as

Injury Riddled Illini Battle Tough Golfers

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Oct. 14—Still riddled by injury, Illinois' football team seeks its first victory of the season against improved Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday afternoon. Coach Ray Eliot has named his fourth starting combination in as many weeks in effort to find a unit which can work effectively on offense.

Illini will be without the services of at least four players this week end, and several others are questionable, or slated only for limited action.

Rudy Siegert, whose leg was slashed by a cleat just an hour after he was promoted to first team left tackle a week ago, will not be available for the Minnesota game.

Tackle Floyd McAfee, a regular at beginning of the season, has recurring back trouble and will not make the trip. A third tackle, Roger Wolf, suffered a sprained knee against Ohio State last week, but should be ready for the Saturday game. Don Tate, regular right tackle, is still hobbled by a sprained ankle.

Illinois also has been hard hit in middle of the line. Guard Paul Furimsky, whose knee was put into a cast following the Penn State opener, will not make the Minnesota trip. Also sidelined is number two center Mike Guinan, who has a deeply bruised forearm.

Guards George Walsh and David Walker can not be counted upon for top performances. Walsh is just beginning heavy work on a knee which was injured before the opening game, and Walker has an infected wrist.

Big question mark, and possible key to Eliot's backfield plans for this week, is halfback Harry Jefferson, who suffered a "line" fracture of his jaw in a physical education class 12 days ago. Team physicians will not allow Jefferson to play unless the injury can be completely protected.

If a protective mask can be pro-

19-0, 25-19, 34-7, and 32-18.

Coach Smarjesse will go along with the same lineup that carries a three-win and one-tie mark in the PMBC loop. Woodson and Dowling will be at the ends, Coegriff and Lewis at guards with Dick Lewis at center. DeVore will be at quarterback, with Dee and Fredericks at halfbacks. Doolin and Flynn will be in on defense.

The Rocket coach is well pleased with the showing of Khouri, Coop and Casler this past week and indicates they will see plenty of action tonight.

Grid Player Dies

MINONG, Wis. (AP)—A Minong High School football player died Thursday at a St. Paul, Minn., hospital after an emergency operation following a game Wednesday night.

Harry Koons, 16, was rushed to St. Paul after first being hospitalized at Amery, Wis., after the game with Balsam Lake High School.

Minong principal Hugh Dillio said Koons, after being replaced in the Minong backfield by a substitute, complained of a severe headache and a physician summoned from the stands said the boy apparently had received a concussion. He then was taken to the hospital.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market declined irregularly Thursday. Support flowed to high-grade investment quality corporates.

"Big board" volume climbed to $3,350,000 par value from $3,130,000 Wednesday but trading was highly selective. Medium quality corporates lost ground while the more secure railroad liens improved. Industrials were generally lower but utilities remained firm. Convertibles followed the stock market downward.

U. S. government bonds were unchanged to lower in slow over the counter dealings.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was forced down Thursday in one of the sharpest falls of the year.

Heavy selling at one time swamped the ticker, but trading was quite orderly except for one brief period.

All sections of the market were involved in the sell off. Railroads, however, resisted the decline and managed to show some small gains at the close.

The cause for the decline was not pinned down by brokers to a single development. Most were inclined to regard the sell off as a technical affair known as a correction.

The industrial component of the average slumped $2.30, railroads were off 70 cents, and the utilities were down 50 cents.

The market broadened out to include 1,223 individual issues. Only 197 of these managed to advance while 818 declined, the most in around six weeks.

Volume stepped up to 2,540,000 shares. That compares with 2,070,000 shares traded Wednesday.

In the group were W. H. Kurtz, chairman of the Jacksonville Airport Authority; Marvin L. Schuetz, a commissioner; Attorney W. L. Pay, secretary; Jack Gies, manager of the Municipal Airport; County Judge Paul Fenstermaker, and Edward H. Alexander, secretary of the Senate.

Alexander, who is chairman of the Morgan County Republican Central committee, arranged for the conference with the governor.

Funds for airport construction throughout the state were appropriated by the legislature. Officials of the Jacksonville Airport Authority had asked an allocation for surfacing the northwest-southeast runway, one of the three runways at the field.

Airport Authority officials said the runway to be improved has already had a base course, ready for blacktop surfacing. This will give the Municipal Airport an all-weather runway, an important improvement in view of regular passenger service which was established a few weeks ago by Byerly Airlines, Inc., operators of the Airport.

"We are hopeful that work of surfacing the runway can be started immediately," Chairman Kurtz stated.

Passenger service was inaugurated between Jacksonville, Peoria, and Chicago two weeks ago, the first scheduled air transportation this community has ever had.

Mrs. Hendrickson Author Of New Children's Book

DORRIS WALSH HENDRICKSON is the author of a book for children, "Breakneck Hill." Just off the press of the Follett Publishing Company. Mrs. Hendrickson is the telegraph editor of The Jacksonville Courier, and was for several years an assistant at the Jacksonville Public Library.

"Breakneck Hill," an amusing story for children 4 to 7 years of age, is about the efforts of the people who lived on a very steep hill to go up and down without getting cricks in their backs. They solve their problem by using a horse-drawn streetcar, with a very unique device suggested by a bright little boy.

Gay and clever illustrations of the book are by Lisl Well, an Austrian born illustrator, who now lives in New York City.

Walker Murder Trial Opens In Winchester

WINCHESTER—Three prosecution witnesses opened testimony here Thursday afternoon in the murder trial of John Wesley Walker.

Walker is charged with the shotgun killing of Edward Van Hyning. Dr. Albert Kuehn, the state's first witness, testified that he was called to the Walker home following the shooting and described the condition in which he found the slain man, Van Hyning.

Next to take the stand was the murdered man's wife, Florence, who described on direct examination the events which led up to the shooting and stated that there had been no quarrel between her husband and Walker preceding the shooting. On cross examination she testified that both Walker and her husband had been drinking and were apparently influenced by the alcohol.

Marquis Childs Commends Work Of Sec. Dulles

Marquis Childs, noted correspondent and editorial writer, paid tribute to the work of Secretary of State Dulles in restoring order to the world, in an address Thursday night at MacMurray College. POPULAR POPPA

ST. LOUIS 4—Thomas J. Dolan, chemist for the Monsanto Co., had people at Lambert-St. Louis airport guessing as he boarded a plane recently.

Gathered around the loading entrance were 19 youngsters, all less than 8 years old and all shouting, "Goodbye daddy."

Only six were his, however. The rest were nephews and nieces brought along for a visit to the airport.

Edna F. Coates, Carl Moran Wed At White Hall

WHITE HALL—Friday evening, Oct. 8, at the Pentecostal church in White Hall Miss Edna Faye Coates became the bride of Carl Moran of Hillview in a double ring ceremony performed by the Reverend Charles Radden. The church was decorated with burning tapers in candelabra and palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Coates, 437 West Bridgeport street and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Moran of Hillview.

Preceding the ceremony Don Spangenberg played musical selections at the piano and accompanied the soloist, Rev. Oliver Spencer of Vandalia, who sang, "O Promise Me," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's sister, Miss Coates, was her only attendant and wore green tulle with net vogue.

The bride wore a floor length white satin gown fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves. The neckline was high from a yoke of Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls. Her skirt was full and Cathedral length. Her headpiece was of tulle and satin trimmed in seed pearls and held the finger-tip length veil. She carried a white arm bouquet centered with a pink rose corsage.

Cecilia Ann Horney and Anna Mae Mast beamed candles at the altar before the ceremony. Kenneth Coates, Jr., nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer and Linda Hudson of Granite City was the flower girl.

Dale Short served as best man and ushers were Glendon Coates, brother of the bride, and David Hillis.

The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Moran, mother of the bridegroom, wore blue and white polka dotted crepe with black accessories and a red rose corsage.

A reception was held at the Hub cafe annex with Pauline Moran, serving cake assisted by Mrs. Sylvia Coates, Mrs. Leona Hansen, Miss Joan Morgan, Mrs. Myrtle Horney and Mrs. Glenn Peirce, the latter registering guests.

When the couple left for a short trip the bride was wearing a teal blue gabardine suit with the pink corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple will live in White Hall where the bride is employed at the high school.

Official flower of Hawaii is the hibiscus.

FROM this side, the thousand-yard spine of rock which separated the Carlson Castle from The Spires very much resembled a crouching lion looking down on the calm water of Puma Lake. Jim drove slowly up the winding road, making the hairpin turns with an evidence of caution which was only abet-mindedness.

Angelia had left her husband just before Peter had married the present Mrs. Kit. Angelica had been taken to California, interrupting or at least spoiling the "honeymoon" in order that Angelica might "forget" and probably as a part of the deal she had made with Mrs. Oswald.

Angelia loved her former husband deeply. Even say she was as "romantic" as Miss Wister insisted, wasn't her knuckling under to old Mrs. Oswald—after Angelica had made the break—a little too much? Unless there is another reason?

The death of Gregory Stoneman in California had occurred after Angelica's "break" with her husband. So that tragic event might be ruled out as a motive for Angelica's return to the Carlsons, regardless of how much or how little it might have had to do with Angelica's actual death.

The Carlsons believed firmly that Gregory Stoneman had been killed by one of themselves. Each suspected another. They were willing for the supposed killer to get away with murder, particularly when an outsider was concerned. But no one of them was above putting pressure of one sort or another on the supposed killer for motives of personal profit or personal power.

Stoneman now believed his brother's death accidental. Yet Stoneman insisted that the others, Mrs. Kit, Mrs. Oswald, Mrs. Hil-ton, were positive murder had been done. What about the doll? It was possible for a woman like Angelica to place a great sentimental value on a childhood possession. But that was not enough reason for Angelica to return to The Spires when she had been frightened by someone following her.

The usual route Miss Wister had been evasive about that, or at least had seemed relieved when he had not questioned her further.

JIM felt the thrill of excitement which comes with the discovery of one concrete base for the building of a structure of facts. In this case, the hiding place.

The Carlsons had come to the mountains around the first of August. The hiding place was a childhood haunt for Angelica and Peter. Sometime after the arrival, Angelica had revamped the old cache, witness the three rotten pieces of wood which had been replaced in the nook by new lumber.

She had visited it occasionally, she must have because her actions had aroused enough curiosity for someone to follow her. She had learned that Mrs. Kit was coming to take up residence at The Spires. Peter had known of the hiding place. He might have told his wife. Whatever was hidden there was of enough value to Angelica to warrant attempts to retrieve it. One attempt spoiled by the follower and by Jim Dunn's arrival. In spite of Stoneman's delaying tactics. The other attempt had been stopped by death itself.

Jim drove past the spot where the creek gushed out of the hole in the cliff side, the creek which entered near the Carlson swimming pool on the other side. He looked at it thoughtfully, decided its investigation could wait.

THE deputy was sitting disconsolately on the runningboard of his car when Jim stopped in the parking area of The Spires. "You come to relieve me?" the man asked hopefully.

"Sorry. I just came to check up on a couple things," Jim admitted.

The deputy grumbled. "Look around all you want, for all of me. But tell Sheriff Agnes she better send someone else here if she wants this place watched. I've had enough." He followed Jim into the basement.

Dunn went to the furnace, changed open its heavy iron door and bent down to stare into its sooty interior.

Jim borrowed a flashlight from the deputy, turned the beam into the furnace's gloomy interior. There was nothing inside, no trace of any pitch chunk. But there was still considerable warmth coming out.

He closed the furnace door gently, walked over to the pile of wood stacked so conveniently to the elevator. He selected a three-foot section of pitch, split from a large and resinous stump. Certainly an ideal lethal weapon, almost as deadly in effect as a piece of lead pipe.

HE heard a scuttling sound, saw the deputy backing away fearfully. Jim smiled and tossed the piece of pitch back onto the pile.

"Think I was going to slug you?" Jim asked.

"I been here too long," the man reminded.

Two fingers on Jim's right hand stuck together. He rubbed his hand on his pant leg, felt the adhesion to the material.

"You got pitch on you," the deputy said. "Hard stuff to get off, too, once it gets ground in."

Jim bent over, rubbed his palm and fingers in the dust of the floor. The stickiness of the pitch lessened, but his palm and fingers were covered with a black layer.

"A little turpentine or alcohol. That's what you need to get it off," the deputy said.

Beef Cattle On

Grain Feed Down

Three Per Cent

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported Wednesday that the number of beef cattle on grain feed for the quality slaughter market in the three major feeding states of Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska is down about 3 per cent from a year ago.

The number on feed in these states on Oct. 1 was estimated at 1,305,000 head compared with 1,341,000 a year earlier.

The number was down 8 per cent in Iowa, but up 2 per cent in Illinois and 4 per cent in Nebraska.

Marketings of grain fed cattle in these states during the past three months were said to have been 8 per cent larger than in the corresponding period a year ago, but replacements in feed lots were 3 per cent smaller.

In California, a 41 per cent increase in feeding operations was reported. The number on feed in that state Oct. 1 was estimated at 433,000 head. Information was not available on feeding operations in other states.

Half a cup of white vinegar, diluted in a quart of water, and given time to sink in, will remove wine stains from carpeting.
